

Sukhraj Johal
100382238

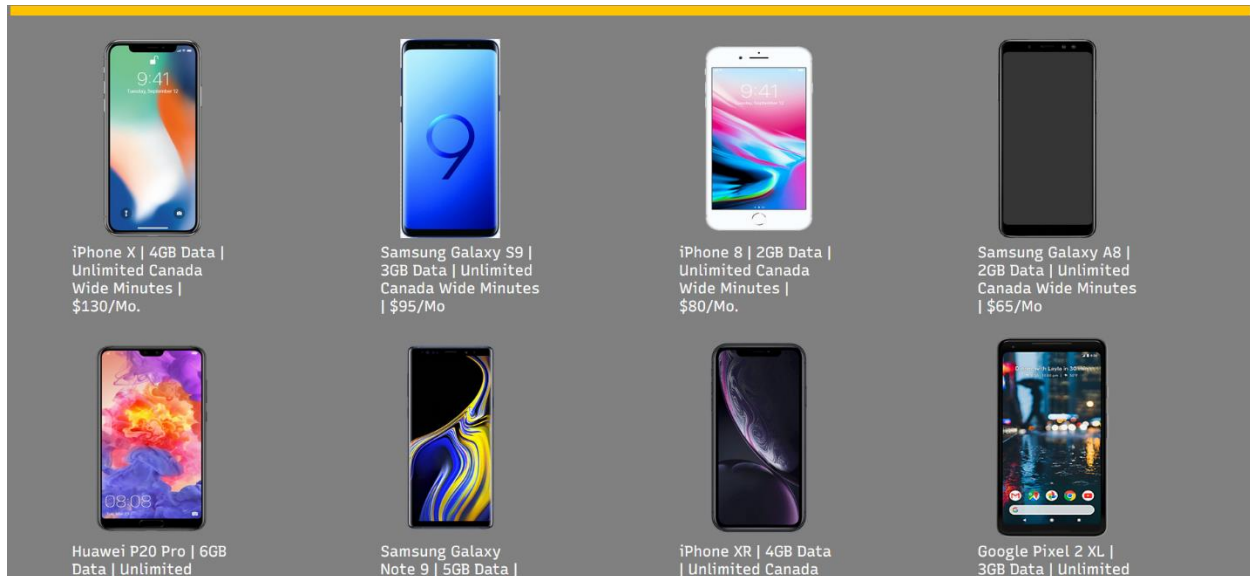

Description of Business:

My business is a cellphone carrier company that provides new cell phones alongside cellular plans. The products provided range from a variety of different new cell phones. All the popular phones are sold ranging from the iPhones to Samsung to Google. The intended target audience for my business could essentially be anyone that is not a toddler. Anyone who needs a phone whether it be a teenager, adult or senior citizen is the target audience.

Figma Wireframe:

My Website:

The differences include background color, font, different shade of yellow. I decided to add a background color on all pages to make it look cleaner, and decided that yellow looked better than the one on the wireframe.

Opening GoormIDE:

To open my project simply open the first link then the container will load, after this simply just open the second link and my website will open.

Project Content:

My project has different features. It has a home page that previews various deals the business has going on for low prices. The website has a few different web pages first being the home page as stated previously just shows the promotions the business currently has going. Second page is the shop where orders are placed for cell phones and the plans that come along with them. Third web page is a FAQ that answers questions customers may have in regards to how things work. The fourth page is a contact us page that states the business' email and phone number in case customers have more detailed questions or requests.